About This Content

General Motors' bestselling SD40-2 diesel locomotive comes to Train Simulator in Norfolk Southern black livery in its popular high nose, long hood variant.

Around 4,000 models of the Dash 2 series locomotive were built between 1972 until 1989 as an upgrade to the SD40. This new version included an updated 3,000 horsepower, turbocharged 16 cylinder diesel-electric engine, with some external updates including longer front and rear 'porches' and an additional roof-mounted radiator grill.

The reliability and versatility of the Class saw many variants produced and nearly all remain in service, seeing service across the US, plus Canada, Mexico, Brazil and Guinea. The locomotive is capable of a 65mph top speed when fitted with standard gearing.

The EMD SD40-2 High Nose Long Hood Forward for Train Simulator is available in Norfolk Southern livery and features include cab lighting, step lights and dynamic braking. A number of freight wagons are also included, such as Covered Hoppers, Double Door Box Cars and Low Gondolas, alongside an ES44AC diesel locomotive in Monongahela grey livery.

The locomotive is also Quick Drive compatible, giving you the freedom to drive the Norfolk Southern SD40-2 High Nose Long Hood Forward on any Quick Drive enabled route for Train Simulator, such as those available through Steam. Also included are scenarios specifically for the Norfolk Southern Coal District route (available separately and required to play these scenarios).

no servers and animation is worst like grenade dropping when the game is good i will change my review to recommended. AN INTERESTING GAME, ALLOWING THE PLAYER TO DETERMINE THE RIGHT PATH TO COMPLETE THE GAME. APPROPRIATE SONGS AND GRAPHICS MAKE THIS GAME BECAME MORE REAL. THE FEATURES MENU IS VERY CLEAR AND EASY TO USE. THE CONCEPT IS SIMPLE BUT IT HAS ITS OWN CHARM.. Great Bat and Ball Pinball Retor 2D Pixel Indie Art. The controls need some more work and smoothness. Good game, especially if you can grab it on a sale.

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=CONvp8cCkbg&t=57s>. As someone who has raced motocross and ridden enduro for nearly a decade, I can tell you that, while it's not the most perfectly realistic simulation, it's realistic enough to have a good time.

Having not played any off road games since the MX vs. ATV days of PS2, I was pretty happy with all they've upgraded. The bike is fun to handle, it takes some mastery to learn how to corner (you can't just pin it every time), finding that jump rhythm is really satisfying, and the rewind system was a cool feature that let me sort of cheat the system while I learned. There's still plenty of times where I case a jump and think "oh man I would have probably shattered my face on the bars in real life" the forgiveness of the game actually made it more fun to me despite me looking for the most realism I could get.

The gear is also really cool. While they don't have 2019 gear, their 2018 gear is pretty extensive and I was able to find all of the gear I wear (at least the same pattern: some of the gear they only had one color option for) despite the fact I like to wear lesser well known brands.

All in all, if you're looking for the perfect realism simulator for motocross, I don't think they make it yet. MXGP Pro is supposed to be a little more realistic, but this is pretty close to as realistic as it gets right now. Despite that, I've found the game really fun and would definitely buy again.. oh no, yet another rpgmaker title!

but against the low initial expectations it's actually well thought out with the apparently silly work life quest analogy and manages to be both entertaining and challenging.. if this continues crashing on windows 8 i want a full 20.00 refund. Everything looks like puke. The ships handle a cripple on fire.. it's a good game, just treat it as the last chapter of the normal arcania.

So I decided to test out the new African Civs.

I created a 1 vs 1 vs 1 vs 1 battle with all of them.

It was going good, when teams 3 & 4 resigned after taking on team 2.

Team 2 was developing at the same pace as myself, witch was good considering that I rush the upgrades first.

After fully upgrading everything, I then atarted on making a Castle wall, to make it very hard to get though to my camp and into my army.

After starting, team 2 started to attack me enmass.

So I retaliated and was wining and about to send in my army to crush most of them when an error popped up.

Saying something about accessing the forgotten expansion, I didn't think much of it as I've bought the whole lot in one go.

So not having that would not have been a problem at all.

So I continued playing when it decided that it was time for me to resign!

So Team 2 won by glitch.

I'm not going to recommend it due to this happening.

But the new units are a welcome sight to the game.. Its like a more relatable Papers Please. Don't be fooled... it does say free to play...

But you can't really do much of anything unless you spend money. And I mean ANYTHING. It costs money for a floor jack to use to work... also, you have to pay monthly to get any cool benefits from the game.

Waste of time and hard disk space... it's ashame too because this game has LOTS of great ideas... whoever was in charge blew it though making everything require deep pockets.... I wish I didn't buy this.. An old classic that has impressive depth, I find that it still holds up in modern times. Overall, pretty and pretty depressing.

Walking sim, collecting the picture pieces is too much of a chore for the achievement because it's too dark with low contrast so exploring is tedious, the environment too samey. The voice acting is good but the script is poor. The puzzles are a chore, you can walk past many of them and I most certainly did.

I hate to beat on an indie game that's clearly had some effort put in but it's a relief to finish the game rather than feeling like any kind of accomplishment.. Not very fun. I think I played it for a couple hours then it lost my attention. There isn't much to the game.
